Approaching the Finish Line: Project Highlights and Updates

Welcome to our latest newsletter! In this edition, we're thrilled to share insights from our recent Karditsa meeting where partners engaged in the initial pilot testing for PR3, producing and fine-tuning digital tools. As highlighted in our previous newsletters, EMMW is an Erasmus+ initiative aimed at developing a training program specifically for enhancing emotional skills among female migrants.

After the initial transnational meetings held in Cologne (Germany), Cordoba (Spain) and Brussels (Belgium), the next destination on our journey was the Karditsa (Greece). During this meeting, partners engaged in valuable discussions, sharing opinions and diverse approaches to enhance the project. Additionally, this meeting in Karditsa marked another significant step forward in the collaborative efforts of the project.

During the Karditsa meeting, all partners actively participated in the initial pilot testing phase for PR3. As an integral component of PR3, each partner contributed by producing digital tools. The meeting served as a platform to comprehensively test and fine-tune all the tools, making necessary adjustments and regulations. Furthermore, we initiated the groundwork for PR4, meticulously going through its activities and establishing deadlines.

As we approach the final stages of the project, there is a palpable sense of excitement among the team. Please stay tuned for more news and updates on our progress. We also encourage you to check out the project results and test our digital tools. Thank you for your ongoing support!
